

Play based

This is the most common curriculum used in preschools, as most people in Ireland believe that children have a right to play. It is recognised that play is a child's way of learning and of coming to terms with the world around them. It is called play-based curriculum because it involves a range of activities and learning approaches – but the child's right to learn through play is at the centre of the curriculum.

